Our Approach

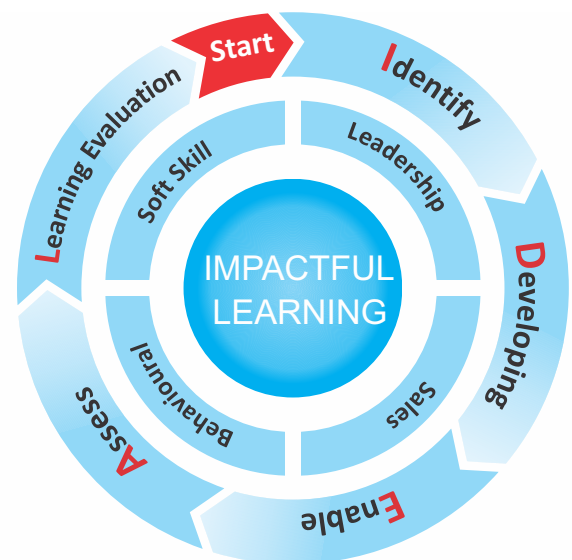

Step 1: Identify the learning needs: We start your learning journey by identifying your organisation's learning needs. Our experts identify skills gap utilising a range of assessment tools, to identify the critical and noncritical skills that are needed to carry out a role effectively.

Step 2: Developing a customised learning programme Our Customised learning programmes will have a measurable and noticeable impact on operational performance of your human resources and increase their effectiveness in areas identified jointly by our experts and you, leading to overall efficiency of your esteemed organisation.

Step 3: Enable the learning: Our customised programmes will ensure that every aspect of the programme based on real life situations and relevant to your organisation and industry. The methodology used inspires experiential learning through usage of tools like simulations, storytelling, case studies, group activities, discussions and role plays This ensure that the course is stimulating on every level and the learning is transferred back to the workplace.

Step 4: Assess the impact: The most crucial aspect of any learning programme is the positive change which it brings in the participants after they have acquired the learning. We employ a variety of feedback tools to assess the learning impact which our tailor made programmes have brought about in the participants.

Step 5: Learning Evaluation: The business environment is very dynamic and as result the learning programmes also need to incorporate these changes to make the learning practical. Our consultants continuously keep on discussing the participant's performance along with the business stake holders. This ensures that skills of participants are consistently enhanced and helps us to completely align our learning programmes along with organisation's changing learning needs.
